

RICHMOND HOST TO RAILWAY MEN

Foremen Blacksmiths Meet Here for Twenty-First Annual Convention.

600 DELEGATES EXPECTED

Meeting Opens To-Morrow With Addresses by Governor and Mayor.

Convention activities begin anew to-morrow with the meeting at the Jefferson Hotel of the International Railway Blacksmith Foremen's Association, which will bring to Richmond between 500 and 600 delegates from every State in the Union, Canada and Mexico. It will be the twenty-first annual meeting of the organization, and the first south of Philadelphia.

The convention will be in session from to-morrow morning until Friday afternoon. The program, still incomplete, provides for two business sessions daily and for an imposing array of diversions, which will entertain the delegates in the evenings.

At the Jefferson Hotel last night a score of more delegates were registered from points as distant as Cleveland, Chicago and Albany. None of the national officers had arrived. These, as well as the bulk of the attendance, are expected on the incoming trains this afternoon and to-night.

Represent Every Railway.

The convention will be attended by blacksmiths representing every railway of consequence in the United States, Mexico and Canada. When the organization met last year in Chicago the two last-named countries were well represented. In the present session of the International Railway Blacksmith Foremen's Association is the second largest among the railway mechanical organizations of the country.

N. Poland, district foreman of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad shops, in this city, is chairman of the reception committee in charge of arrangements for the Richmond meeting. He is assisted locally by P. F. Dugan, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, and Hugh Timmons, of the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Company.

The national officers, all of whom are expected to-day, are: J. T. McSweeney, Baltimore and Ohio, Baltimore, president; H. E. Gamble, Pennsylvania Lines, Altoona, Pa., vice-president; A. L. Wordworth, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, Lima, O., secretary-treasurer; and T. E. Williams, Chicago and North-western, Chicago, chairman of the executive committee.

Entertained by Supply Men. With the blacksmiths will meet 100 or more railway supply men, who will bring with them extensive exhibits, and will take part in an interesting entertainment. The Railway Supply Men's Association is headed by President J. B. Blaklee, of Cleveland, and Secretary George Hoeft, of New York City. Both officers are expected to-day.

The discussions and papers, which will occupy the time of the delegates at the convention, will be of a purely technical nature. The convention is purely for the interchange of ideas and for the exposition of improved methods of work. Traveling expenses, as well as hotel bills, are in every case borne by the railroad sending delegates.

Address by Governor.

Convention activities will begin at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, with an address of welcome by Governor Mann. Other welcoming speeches will be made by Mayor Alsie and by W. D. Duke, assistant to the president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. There will be responses by President McSweeney and other delegates for the visitors.

Business will be the order at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. For the 100 or more women who are expected to accompany the delegates the local reception committee has arranged an automobile tour of the city. Motor cars will leave the Franklin Street entrance of the hotel to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to be announced at the convention. The tour will include a row night includes an entertainment by Polk Miller's darkey quartet, a buffet supper and a dance.

Boat Trip Wednesday.

The visitors' foremost serious business Wednesday and spend the whole day in a trip down the river to Jamestown Island. The steamer will leave the Old Dominion wharf at 8 o'clock in the morning and return at 10 o'clock at night. Kessnich's Municipal Band will accompany the excursionists and provide the melody.

There will be morning and afternoon business sessions. Thursday. In the afternoon there will be a reception to the women in the parlor of the Jefferson Hotel. At night there will be the annual dinner in the hotel auditorium with an imposing array of toasts.

Morning and afternoon business sessions Friday will complete the work of the convention. In the afternoon will take place the annual election of officers and the voting for the 1914 convention city. Among the cities in the race for the honor of entertaining the blacksmiths next year are Philadelphia, Denver, Cleveland and Boston.

Policeman Uses Stick on Negro.

In resisting arrest yesterday morning, John Winston, colored, was struck over the head with a club in the hands of Officer Sharp, of the Third District, and severely injured. Two calls for the city ambulance, in charge of Dr. Cofer, were sent in. It was discovered that Winston had received a deep gash in the head, but the skull was found to be intact.

Negro Arrested for Biting Spouse.

Charged with biting his wife in a free-for-all fight Saturday night, Wyatt Smith, colored, was arrested yesterday and is being held at the Third Police Station for trial this morning. A $500 warrant was issued against Wyatt, who in turn had six negroes arrested for engaging in the scuffle.

MOVIES AT CHIMBORAZO, THE PARK PROGRESSIVE

First to Remove "Keep Off the Grass" Signs and First to Get Playgrounds—East End Resort Leads With Free Motion Pictures.

Chimborazo—the Park Progressive. That's the sobriquet that will cling henceforth to the big green place on the east end of the city, as maiden ladies at mountain resorts cling to the week-enders, as misers cling to their cash, as boarding-houses cling to hash, as narrow charmesse cling to the human form divine, as other things cling to their psychic and chemical affluents.

First of the acts of insurgency that set Chimborazo apart from its fellows was the removal of "Don't Walk on the Grass" signs. It was the first large local park—no any the taxpayers—sign the park declaration of independence, which sets forth in its preamble that, be it ever so green and esthetic, park grass is up good unless you can walk on it. Article I, of the same instrument asserts belief in the creed that parks are made for the people and not people for the parks.

With one act of insurgency already to its credit, it was not remarkable that when the city fathers sought a suitable place for the first municipal playground they selected Chimborazo. There was less trim and the shrubbery was less geometrical, but the atmosphere was right for receiving and giving strength to the new-born spirit of play. In a more formal environment it might have fished for a more elaborate playground, but the emancipation of Chimborazo, an entirely new departure—free motion pictures, no "Keep Off the Grass" signs, and the public playground, free movie pictures—in this trinity Chimborazo conquers and attains municipal knighthood as the Park Progressive.

If the experiment at Chimborazo is successful, the movies will be exhibited in other parks. The exhibition will be given for the first time Wednesday night, with Kessnich's Band in open-air concert, it will form a free attraction at Chimborazo which will draw heavily upon the population of the eastern and other sections of the city.

The motion picture experiment is an enterprise of the Administrative Board, which has decided to put into service a moving-picture machine which the city acquired several months ago when the old Lubin Theatre retired from the local amusement field. Under the direction of the City Electrician, the machine has been rigged up for service. An experienced reel-winder has agreed to give his services free.

The plan, as far as it has been completed, is to carry the motion-picture exhibition over a circuit of four parks—each located in one of the four wards. Local motion-picture men have taken kindly to the idea. They will supervise the exhibition programs, and will join hands in supplying the films. The municipal equipment for the opening exhibition has been inspected by Louis Myers, formerly manager of the Empire, and pronounced satisfactory.

From the standpoint of the youngsters of both sexes, the new enterprise is an event of the first importance. The big band play the trotting airs of the day, to roll on the grass unrestricted, and to witness a real moving-picture entertainment, and the rest—all at the same time and without the cost of a cent—is a hunk of dreamland made real.

SWANBORO STORE SELLS ON SUNDAY

Ordered by Magistrate Cheatham to Remain Closed, but Owner Will Test Ruling.

Disregarding the orders of the magisterial court, J. W. Milby, who conducts the only confectionery store in Swansboro, opened for business as usual yesterday morning and suffered no molestation at the hands of the law. As far as could be ascertained last night, no complaints of the violation of the Sunday antislavery laws were made to the authorities.

The confectionery store and the two village drug stores were notified on August 9 by Magistrate L. W. Cheatham of the Swansboro Court, that the store would be rigidly enforced. This meant the closing of the Milby establishment, while the druggists were forbidden to sell anything except medicines and drugs. In compliance with the ruling, the three stores closed the following day and Swansboro had its first dry Sunday.

Last week Mr. Milby and B. M. Roberts, proprietor of one of the drug stores, had a conference with Commonwealth's Attorney Haskins Hobson, and went before Judge Robert G. Southall, of the Chesterfield Circuit Court, with a request that permission to remain open be given. They were informed that if a precedent for such an action could be cited, the request would be granted. None was produced, and Mr. Milby then determined to make a legal test and ascertain his rights.

Magistrate L. W. Cheatham could not be reached by telephone last night, but Mrs. Cheatham stated that she expected that he would stand by the official cognizance of the law. The orders. Rev. Charles Tinsley Thrift, the complainant who caused the issuance of the order, has been away from the village for a week. He returned yesterday, but would not discuss the subject last night.

While open for business, Mr. Milby had the blinds down and the doors of his establishment closed throughout the day, and quietly conducted his affairs. He stated that he meant no disrespect to Magistrate L. W. Cheatham, but merely wished to test the ruling.

Ask Police to Find Missing Boy.

Missing from his home since Friday, the parents of Ralph Bebe, fifteen years old, of Seventh and Perry Streets, District to institute a search. The boy is described as being light-skinned, has blue eyes, curly hair, and what last seen was dressed in a gray suit and wore a cap.

Found on Street Unconscious.

Lying unconscious on the street, John Boyle, of 514 West Eleventh Street, South Richmond, was found yesterday morning by two young men and taken to his home. Mr. Boyle had been struck by a car and was in a bad condition last night was reported as improved.

Failed to Return Photographs.

Charged with failure to return photographs which he solicited to have enlarged, E. M. Hall, colored, was arrested yesterday by the police in the Third District. He was held without bail for trial before Squire L. B. Franklin, in Police Court, Part II, this morning.

Jim Perry Aggins in Tolls.

Jim Perry, colored, who figures weekly on the books of the Third District, was arrested again yesterday. He is charged with trespass. Last week Jim took the spotlight by getting his skull cracked in a crap game while out on bail on a similar charge.

Robert Lecky, Jr. Henry E. Baskerville and S. P. W. Hall, members of the board of directors, visited the institution yesterday, and after spending some time in the parlor of the Jefferson Hotel, returned to Richmond with their good behavior. Mr. Lecky said the visit was unofficial.

"We go to the home at frequent intervals," he said. "The girls we found to be pursuing their usual duties, and there was not the slightest indication of disorder."

Whether the arrival of W. H. Turpin, the farmer of King and Queen County, appointed to succeed Beverly Banks, the negro overseer at the home, today will be the signal for another outbreak by the girls is not known, but it is not expected there will be any demonstration. It is known, however, that the girls do not like the dismissal of Banks.

Accused of Sunday Selling.

John E. Butler, who conducts a drug store at Morris and Main Streets, was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Walker on the charge of doing business on Sunday.

CONVICTED PARENT VISITED BY CHILD

Newell Walker Sees Seven-Year-Old Daughter for First Time Since He Killed Wife.

PRISONER IS HOPELESS

Realizing That His Chances for Life Are Slim, Walker Has Begun to Break Down.

Choked with emotion at the sight of his small child, but unable to utter a greeting, young Newell Walker, convicted wife-murderer, yesterday visited his eldest daughter, to his breast for the first time since the tragedy for which he is condemned to pay the extreme penalty. The meeting took place in the gloomy corridor at Henrico County Jail, where he has been confined for two months, and which he will leave in two weeks for the death chamber in the State Penitentiary unless Governor Mann intervenes.

Just before the little girl's visit, the county prisoners had had a song and prayer service with some traveling evangelists, and Walker, whose mental condition for the past few weeks has been precarious, was worked up to a high nervous pitch, and the sight of friends was more than he could stand. Wildly grasping his child, and with tears pouring down his cheeks, Walker imprinted kiss after kiss on her face. It was necessary to cut the visit short, and for hours the prisoner paced up and down his narrow corridor, sobbing and half hysterical.

Saying He Was Insane.

Walker, who is twenty-eight years old, is condemned to die for the murder of his young wife, whose throat he cut. The murder was said to have been premeditated, but this Walker denies. He acknowledges the killing, but claims to have committed the deed in a moment of insanity. The murder took place in Charles City County on May 19, in sight of several persons, a razor being the weapon used. Mrs. Walker's head was practically severed from the body.

Walker continually refers to his wife. Since the murder the three youngsters have been taken by separate families. Whenever the children are mentioned, Walker brightens up, and immediately after he becomes morose.

Mary, the little seven-year-old child who visited her father yesterday, is said to greatly resemble her mother. She is a bright little girl, with dark hair and eyes, and was her father's favorite. She is now living with her aunt in Newport News, and was brought here yesterday to see her parent, probably for the last time.

Walker has been buoyed up with the expectancy of a new trial, but this slight hope has been dashed. The Supreme Court of Appeals will meet early next month, and will then act on his case. Walker's attorneys are confident that a new trial will be granted.

ASK RECOGNITION FOR NEW COMMAND

Southside Military Company Secures Sixty-One Recruits in Less Than Three Weeks.

In spite of the daily Mexican war scares, the young men of South Richmond have taken well to the plan of organizing a company of infantry to be located on the Southside and the promoters of the scheme are well satisfied with the progress made. Although the first recruit was signed less than three weeks ago, enough have signified their willingness to join, and the military authorities will be asked this week to grant the company recognition.

While the company will need sixty-one members before it can be mustered into the State service, the backers will not stop at that number, but will get on more to fill the shoes of any who for any reason could not be enlisted. A meeting for the purpose of electing officers will be held early next week.

Uniforms and rifles and all other necessary equipment will be furnished by the State. The members of the company are the Southside members of the City Council have agreed to use their efforts in securing an armory for the boys, and pending its erection suitable quarters will be secured for meeting purposes. One night a week will be set aside for drill and one week each summer will probably be spent in camp.

The young men are enthusiastic over the prospects, as the Southside has long needed something of this sort. Many congenial youngsters have agreed to join the company, and they are expecting to get much enjoyment out of their patriotic efforts. No trouble is expected in getting the new company mustered into service.

Park Concerts.

Monday night—Washington Park. Tuesday night—Monroe Park. Wednesday night—Chimborazo Park. Thursday afternoon, 5 to 7—William Byrd Park. Thursday night—Capitol Square. Friday night—Jefferson Park.

Old Age Is As Inevitable

As the flight of time. Why should one worry about the thing over which he has no control. The sensible course to pursue is to do the thing that is best for himself and those dependent upon him. The man who begins to save and protect his interests while young will invariably have the satisfaction of knowing that he will have the means wherewith to sustain himself in his old age, without being dependent, the thing we all most dread.

MARKSMEN LEAVE FOR CAMP PERRY

Sixteen Riflemen Who Qualify for Virginia Team Expected to Make Fine Showing.

ONE LOCAL MAN ON TEAM

Captain C. M. Wallace Only Richmonder to Make Trip. Seven Represent Staunton.

With only one Richmond man on the team, the sixteen expert marksmen who will represent Virginia in the annual rifle match at Camp Perry, O., left yesterday for the scene of the competition. The team was selected Saturday from thirty-five members of the Virginia volunteers, who had spent the week at the State range at Virginia Beach at target practice.

The trip to Camp Perry was made in a special car from Norfolk, over the Norfolk and Western Railway. Those members of the party who failed to qualify for the team left the train at Petersburg, and came on to Richmond, arriving here too late to make connections for their home stations. Most of the men, however, left for their homes last night. The delay in reaching this city was caused by a small wreck south of Petersburg.

Major Martin in Command. Major Stanley H. Martin will command the Virginians during their stay at Camp Perry. Lieutenant-Colonel Percy will act as coach, while Captain Arthur W. Grove will be spotter. Captain C. M. Wallace, of the ordinance department, is the only Richmond man to qualify for the team. The active members are Captain H. L. Opler, Company I, Staunton, First Regiment; Sergeant J. A. Darnell, Company I, Staunton, First Regiment; Sergeant O. B. Fisher, Company C, Newport News, Fourth Regiment; Sergeant F. W. Pingley, Winchester, Second Regiment; Sergeant W. J. Rouse, Company I, Staunton, First Regiment; Captain C. M. Wallace, ordinance department; Quartermaster-Sergeant W. W. Serment, Company I, Staunton, First Regiment; Lieutenant H. L. Opler, Company I, Staunton, First Regiment; Corporal E. E. Chisler, Company M, Emporia, Fourth Regiment; Lieutenant A. I. Gikerson, engineering corps; Sergeant J. K. Posthumus, Portsmouth, Fourth Regiment; Sergeant J. W. Gilkerson, Company B, Culpeper, Second Regiment; Lieutenant Peace, Company I, Staunton, First Regiment; Sergeant T. J. B. Lohr, Company K, Staunton, First Regiment; and Lieutenant Nelson Wampler, Company B, Culpeper, Second Regiment.

Virginia has made remarkable progress during the past few years at Camp Perry. In 1911, the last time the team entered the competition, Virginia jumped from third to first place, and won the place, and won third place in 1912. By the big jump, the team now ranks well up in class B.

For the showing made in 1911, each member of the team was given a gold medal. A purse of $175 was won also. Fifteen qualified in some capacity. It is expected that the team of 1913 will do even better. Colonel C. A. Dempsey, United States Army, retired, is now connected with the Virginia Volunteers, is greatly pleased with the showing made at Virginia Beach, and is confident that a fine record will be made by the Virginians. They are better informed and handle the rifles better than any previous team, and show a remarkable grasp of the work they are expected to do.

Catch Six Gamblers.

Six negroes, alleged craps shooters, were arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Voltz and J. J. Smith in the rear of 605 East Main Street.

Say Negro Had Gun.

John Hunt, colored, was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Griffin on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon, a revolver.

Arrested for Theft of Papers.

LeRoy Owens, a fourteen-year-old negro, was arrested yesterday morning by Policemen Folkes and Hill on the charge of stealing copies of the Times-Dispatch from doorways in the vicinity of Eighteenth and Franklin Streets.

The prisoner was taken on the car to Smith Street and walked to the Second Police Station, where two charges of disorderly conduct were lodged against him. He gave his name as Lewis Bates. He will be prosecuted by the Virginia Railway and Power Company for his disorderly conduct on the car and by Mr. Gordon for his conduct in the street.

THREE SPANIARDS HANGED

86 YEARS AGO YESTERDAY

Victims, Seated on Coffins, Were Driven to Penitentiary Bottom From Jail.

Richmond, the scene of many dramatic occurrences, received one of its greatest thrills eighty-six years ago yesterday. Seated on open coffins and clothed in purple gowns and black caps, three piratical Spaniards were driven up Main Street to Penitentiary Bottom, where, in the presence of a vast multitude, they were hanged.

The men—Pepe, Couro and Felix—were tried in the United States District Court, found guilty of piracy and murder on the brig Crawford, bound to Matanzas, Cuba, and sentenced to be executed on August 17, 1827. The condemned men were confined in the Henrico County Jail until the morning of the execution. They were taken from the jail, placed in an open wagon, and guarded by the military commands of the city, were taken to the gallows. The hills around the penitentiary were covered with people. The crowd was estimated at 7,000. Felix was the first to die. The ropes broke under the weight of Pepe and Couro, and as their bodies hit the ground, a cry that they were being rescued by comrades threw the crowd into a panic. The men were lifted up to the trap and it was again sprung.

Tried to Bring Them to Life.

The three pirates were consigned to the same grave, but before night had been disinterred and taken to the armory, where an experiment with an electric appliance was tried. There was keen disappointment over the non-success of the experiment, which it was confidently expected would bring the men to life. Their bodies were again buried on one of the hills surrounding the penitentiary.

August 18 is a date that will be long remembered in Richmond. On that day, 1827, the corner-stone of the Capital of Virginia was laid by Richmond Lodge, No. 12, A. F. & A. M. Alexander Montgomery, master, and James Mercer, past master. The ground had been purchased the day before from Thomas Newton, Jr., and Lewis Bates, each of whom received 150 pounds sterling.

Noted Men Fight Duel.

The city was thrown into a turmoil on August 17, 1827 by news of a duel between John M. Daniel, editor of the Richmond Examiner, and E. C. Elmore, treasurer of the Confederate States of America. The fight took place at Dill's Mill, Henrico County.

HE MAKES ARREST JUST LIKE "COP"

Police Commissioner Gordon Takes Negro in Custody for Swearing in Street.

Police Commissioner W. Douglas Gordon yesterday made a record for himself by making a police officer's job, which he accompanied it, and in keeping with this he made an arrest, just like a cop.

Mr. Gordon was aboard a Clay Street car and it stopped while going west at First Street. The sound of loud talking was heard by him and this was followed by a volley of oaths. He turned and saw the argument was between the conductor and a negro who had refused to pay his fare. The latter was standing in the street swearing. As there were several women within earshot of the negro's voice, Mr. Gordon promptly jumped from the car and placed the man under arrest for disorderly conduct.

The prisoner was taken on the car to Smith Street and walked to the Second Police Station, where two charges of disorderly conduct were lodged against him. He gave his name as Lewis Bates. He will be prosecuted by the Virginia Railway and Power Company for his disorderly conduct on the car and by Mr. Gordon for his conduct in the street.
